God has done something special for you and through you and it shows in your demeanor and carriage. We want to use your image to minister to others through Message! We are looking for men, women and children in this one-of-a-kind project! Our 2016 Bible study, The Experience, will trace the moments leading up to Christ's death and resurrection. This, "a thoughtful hour" of reflection, will bless the readers and you!

Message and the award-winning Nikon certified photographer Ronald Pollard have teamed up to create timeless and unique images that illustrate stories from the life of Jesus. These images will be used in Message, its online platforms and in calendars and Bible studies.

The casting call closes Friday, December 4, 2015. Send your photo to editor@messagemagazine.com.

Message Million Man March Logo

Mary McLeod Bethune July 1937

Educator, lecturer, executive, writer, Mrs. Bethune was chosen a few years ago as one of the fifty greatest living American women, and on that list she stood twelfth; but doubtless her greatest claim to fame will be in the field of her chosen profession—education, for there she has made a contribution to the Race which deservedly ranks her with Booker T. Washington.

CHANGING STANDARDS

Like all the other great educational leaders of America, Mrs. Bethune has been inspired by religious convictions to contribute to the educational and spiritual uplift of her people. Education received its first impetus from the church.
