

Message Daily with L. David Harris

For years many of you have tuned in to “Thoughts in Worship” and “Your Daily Portion” with Pastor L. David Harris on Facebook, iTunes, and many other platforms. He’s led many of you in early morning devotionals and study of the Sabbath School lesson for more than 1500 episodes. As many of you know, Pastor Harris is passionate about sharing the power of the Gospel on all sorts of platforms. What you may not know is that Harris is not just a Pastor. He’s also a website designer, book publisher, writer, podcast host, and so much more currently based in Jamaica. At his core Pastor Harris is committed to creating content that truly inspires, equips, and challenges the people of God to grow in their relationship with Jesus Christ.

We are so excited to announce that we will be providing an updated devotional experience for you that we’re calling #MessageDaily. THIS THURSDAY, on Sept 5th you will be able to download and stream our new 15-minute daily devotional. It will include the morning devotionals you’re use to reading from Harris on Facebook, along with a 10 minute study of the text and concepts being discussed. We know this new devotional podcast is going to bless your life. And we are beyond excited to release the new episodes. Check out this teaser below, and look out for Message Daily wherever you listen to podcasts.
